Table 14 Notes

States can take steps to improve \textit{ex parte} renewal rates and many have done so in the past year. Actions reported here include expanding the number of state and federal databases used to conduct electronic data matches and enhancing its system's programming to increase the number of renewals completed via \textit{ex parte}. Some states have adopted additional or other approaches to increase the share of renewals completed via \textit{ex parte} processes that are not reported in this table.
